This Stuff Works!

December 1, 2017

Size: 1-pack | Verified Purchase

After years of hoarding patches with hopes of putting them on my backpack, I found Badge Magic and had them mounted in less than 30 minutes. I had originally tried to sew them on, but the double layered backpack with internal zippered pockets made it almost impossible. Not wanting to use glue, I ordered a piece of Badge Magic and gave it a try. The badges are secured quite well, but if you forcefully try to peel them off, they will peel. It does take considerable effort, so I have confidence they won't peel off from daily use.

To install, just trace the badge on the paper and cut it out. The paper printed side can be difficult to get your fingernail under to start peeling it off. Once you have one side removed, line it up and press it firmly onto the back of the patch, then remove the remaining side and very firmly press it onto the surface. Work it over with your hands, pushing down on all areas of the patch. You can probably get about 12 standard sized patches out of one sheet.

Great for sticking on patches to backpacks

March 24, 2017

Size: 1-pack | Verified Purchase

I bought these after hearing about them from a friend. I backpack a lot for fun, and one of the ways I like to commemorate my travels is by getting a patch of the flag from the country I went to. I was able to quickly and painlessly stick these patches onto my backpack (Nylon). They seem secure even after going through rain and rough terrain. I would highly recommend it.

A Scout Parent's Dream Come True

March 17, 2018

Size: 1-pack | Verified Purchase

I have 3 daughters in Girl Scouts, which means there are a lot of patches in my life. Those lovely iron on patches just don't iron on, which has left me sewing on patch after patch, and replacing sewing machine needles after they break from the thickness of some patches.

My youngest daughter just got a sample of this Badge Magic....and guess what....it really is Magic! Voila, I trace, Doesn't work as advertised.

After one wash, the badges are coming off my kid's taekwondo uniform. And now there's sticky stuff afixed to a pair of shorts washed with it. Read more ▶

Family favorite for putting patches on clothes!

Have used this for years on my scouts' uniforms. This is the easiest method to put patches on. I've tried patch glue, ironing, and sewing. Read more ▶

Easy to use

Trace it, cut it and press it on with a spoon. It's pretty easy. Having some Goof Off on hand is helpful to get the adhesive off your scissors.

cut peel and attach, and they stick. I have yet to wash the uniforms since I've started using Badge Magic, so I cannot speak for washing yet. I'll update my review if I lose any patches or if they get loose in the washing machine. For now, I'm a happy mom, because I don't have to watch their uniforms like a hawk waiting for patches to fall off, nor do I have to drag out my sewing machine every time they earn a new one. I also think the price is very reasonable, a $10 sheet saves me HOURS of time & frustration!

★★★★★ It works really well, through the washer and dryer!

June 19, 2016

Size: 1-pack | Verified Purchase

It really does stick things well. I use it to put merit badges on my scout's sash. I also use it to adhere patches to the official uniform shirt, and haven't had the need to sew anything on. Have put the garment I used it for through the washer and dryer several times, and the patches stay stuck right in place! Had to remove a patch, which was a pain in the butt. Had to use "goo gone" (as is recommended by the makers of badge Magic.) Even with Goo gone, it was difficult to get the patch removed. I know when I put on a patch with this stuff, it is going to stay until I take it off.

★★★★★ 5 minutes till Awana? No problem, I'll get those badges on!

March 4, 2016

Size: 1-pack | Verified Purchase

I bought this on my sister's recommendation for our kids Awana badges. So far I really like it. It's easy to cut, easy to place and easy to stick. I haven't washed the vests yet, but they have been through several weeks of Awana "abuse" and still look great! I was able to put the HangGlider emblem and a cubbies patch on Wednesday night in about 5 minutes before they left, so I call that a win! I will update upon washing. I bought some for my Sister-In-Law who has been sewing them on too.

Pros: Super simple
Sticks well
Looks nice
Wash well, at least on delicate cycle

Cons: If you really like sewing your badges on, they might not have the same look.

UPDATE: I washed our vests last night on the delicate cycle in the washer and the badges are still holding tightly so far. Will continue to update as time goes on.

★★★★★ Excellent!

This is perfect for Boy Scout badges which are not iron-on. (For some reason, the Girl Scout badges come as iron-on.) This stuff works great. Read the instructions carefully - you will not use an iron. If you need to remove the badges at the end of the year, you can use Goof-Off -it works like a champ.

This product would probably work well on something that is not washed often. I used it on my martial arts gi, which I wash on cold about once a week.

I like this product, it worked well - but I had a devil of a time peeling the layers apart after cutting out the badge shape, to the point where I mangled a cut out trying to separate the layers. That wouldn't be a super big deal, but this stuff is really pricy for just one sheet, so every scrap is dear. Once I managed to attach the patches, though, it's been great. I used it to put colorful patches on my daughter's plain Jansport backpack.

Ouija

★★★★★ A must have for Girl Scouts

November 14, 2015

Size: 1-pack | Verified Purchase

Badge Magic isn't cheap, but it's necessary if you have many badges to affix, like I did with my daughter's Brownie (and now Daisy) vest. It takes a little getting used to and a steady hand with the scissors, but once you have it down Badge Magic will make you wish you had discovered it sooner. It basically affixes badges to clothing without the need for ironing or sewing, two things I dislike doing. So far I've found that the Brownie vest and all its badges wash up quite well in the laundry, and none of the badges have dislodged. This is a must have for the parent who can't sew and for badges that claim to be iron on but are clearly not. Badge Magic definitely has been a major time saver for me.
