The Secrets Of Attracting Beautiful Women

I have found out the way to meet beautiful women is to be different and unique. Women do not want the dull average guy. You can meet and date more beautiful women than the best looking guy in the world if you come across as "different" than the average man.

With the various techniques I describe in this manual, beautiful women will be yours by the dozens.

I guarantee it.

By the way this manual is titled "Secrets of Attracting Beautiful Women" which is "The Complete Guide To Attracting Women Volume II". Volume one of Attracting Women covered mostly meeting women in bars.

This manual will cover techniques that you can use anywhere and everywhere. If you see a beautiful woman in the mall or a restaurant, use one of these techniques on her. You may be surprised. Now let's stop hearing Wayne blow wind and let him tell you all the secrets of attracting beautiful women.

Become The Ladies Man Of Your Dreams

How bad do you want beautiful sexy women? Do you want them so bad you can taste it? Let me tell you a little about myself and how I became an expert (a legend in my own mind) on meeting and dating beautiful women. You may see a little or a lot of yourself in my life.

I loved girls since I was in the 5th grade, maybe even before that because I think I had a crush on a little blonde in kindergarten. But I remember distinctly in 5th grade I was in love with a girl named Missy. She was so pretty to a boy like me in the 5th grade.

Most of my friends wanted to play baseball or football, I wanted to play with Missy. I carried her books to school, followed her everywhere, and she broke my heart when she told me she didn't like boys.

I stayed her friend and was in love with her through the sixth grade when she did find a boyfriend, but it wasn't me. It was a boy named Tom. Oh how I hated him. I dreamt of various ways to bump him off so I could have Missy (must have been influenced by the horror movies I liked).

Tom was a boy that others considered handsome. I was considered a nerd by most of the other guys because I wore glasses, was skinny as a rail, and didn't like sports. The only playing I wanted to do was with girls. I spent all my time thinking about pretty girls while other guys thought about baseball and football.

This is still true today. Many of the guys I know can't wait for Sunday football, I can't wait until the next time I have a chance to meet a beautiful girl. I would rather have a beautiful girl in my arms than an ugly old football. But if you like sports, all well and good, just don't let it become the dominant interest in your life. I go to some games, but believe me I still stare at the sexy girls most of the time rather than the game itself.

Of course if I have a date with me I pay complete attention to her, but if I'm alone I look at the girls. As I ramble on I'm trying to tell about some of the mistakes I made and try to stop you from making them. I will tell you about Karen and the big mistake I made and because of that I lost out on a teenage beauty that every guy in school had a crush on. Whatever you do, don't mess up like I did.

To an average looking guy, especially a nerd, high school is the hardest time in life to attract sexy girls unless the guy is handsome and built. That's why I never forgot Karen and how I lost my chance. I was a sophomore in high school when I first saw Karen. I was working part time after school in my uncle's shoe repair and she walked in with a pair of her dad's shoes to be fixed.

My mouth fell when I saw her. How can I tell you what she looked like? How do you describe an angel? She had long brown hair, a nice shape, and the face of an angel. When she smiled I thought of an angel in heaven smiling. (This was the way I described pretty girls then, as angels in heaven).

I found out where Karen lived by the slip she filled out with her shoe order. I bombarded her with phone calls, love letters, poems of love, and dozens of small gifts pledging my undying love. I suffocated her with love and words of love. I called her day and night telling her I loved her and couldn't live without her. It was too much too soon.

Can you tell what the fatal mistake was that I made? I was having a 16th birthday party and I invited Karen.

She said she would come as a friend. I was so happy, the girl of my dreams was coming to my party. I told everyone about how my beautiful girlfriend was going to be at my party. I wanted to make all my buddies jealous.

I had a small picture of Karen that one of her friends gave me and I wrote on the back of it "To the boy I love and hope to marry someday Karen". I was a teenage boy lying to my friends. The day before the party Karen called me and told me she was not going to come to the party. She was mad because the whole school thought I was going steady with her because of my lies that she loved me.

She told me that I was only a friend and never to call her again unless I could be just a friend and would stop with the lies and love letters. I should have said yes but instead I broke down crying and told her I would kill myself if she didn't come to my party. I pleaded with her. I begged her. I finally told her to go to hell and said that if I was a big football star that she would probably go out with me. She hung up on me and I never talked to her again.

The next few months I lived in a fog thinking that I wish I were dead because the only girl I ever loved would not love me. About three months later a friend of Karen's (Janice) told me that I would have had a good chance with Karen because I was a nice guy and she liked that. Most of the guys Karen dated were football stars but they all wanted sex or were stuck on themselves. Karen told her that I came along at the right time but I was too serious and possessive. I should have become her friend she told Janice and I would have had a good chance. She asked me to become her friend and I refused. It was too late now because it would look like I was only doing it to get in good with her.

The lesson I want to get across here is that even if a girl does not want to date you or become involved in a relationship with you then offer to become her friend. You never know what it may lead to. A friendship with the woman of your dreams may lead to a relationship with the woman of your dreams. My last two years in high school were miserable to say the least. I only weighed 98 lbs. and was called "Bony" by all the guys. No girl would give me the time of day because they all thought of me as that "skinny guy with the glasses." I was the last one chosen in gym class for any team because I was lousy at sports.

I am only telling you all this to let you know what a washout I was with girls in high school and how different it is today. Today I don't have to worry about being skinny but about getting fat. I have a pot belly and have a very difficult time losing weight. Now I feel more confident around women when I am thin. I am 5' 8" and weigh around 160 lbs. but still have a little bit of a pot belly. I don't want to bore you with too much of my personal life but I want you to know that no matter how bad you had it with women I will help you to become a ladies man.

Just listen to everything I say and you will be successful beyond your wildest dreams. All my advice is based on experience and the help of hundreds of women. To succeed with women you must ask them what it takes and I have done that. So let's get the meat of the manual.

THE SEVEN WORDS TO MEET WOMEN ANYWHERE AND EVERYWHERE

Would you like to walk up to a pretty woman and say seven words, walk away and have her call you within a few days? It's possible with this new method of attracting women. Women love to meet a man who is different and unique. This method was told to me by one of my customers in Florida.

He told me that him and his friend meet about a dozen sexy women each and every month saying the seven words. Here is how it works:

Go to any print shop and get about 1000 business cards printed up with your name and phone number on the front. On the back of the card have printed the following:

"Hi I think you're very pretty and I'd like to get to know you better... but I don't know how to ask. Can we meet for a cup of coffee sometime. Call me."

You could have any variation printed. Just get across that you think she's pretty and you would like to meet her. Go up to any mall or anywhere there is a lot of women and walk up to the girls you want to meet and say these seven words.

"Pardon me. Do you have a phone?" Or you can say "Do you have a phone? Call me."

After you say the seven words you give them a card and leave. On the card you have printed the following "I think you are really pretty and I'd like to get to know you better – but I don't know how to ask. Can you meet me for a cup of coffee sometime? Call me.

Wayne (330) 456-5936."

You can use a little bit of variation. Let's see what a few other guys have done.

Brian – "I had horrible luck with women and I hated to get rejected when I asked a girl to dance or to go on a date. When Wayne told me about the seven words I liked the idea because there was no verbal rejection.

I would say the seven words, give the girl the card and walk away. If she called me fine, if not I would never know the feel of rejection when a girl would say no to my face because there could be many reasons she didn't call other than not liking my looks. I went to a printer and had a thousand cards printed up. I had the following printed on the cards.

"I hope I'm not being too forward, but I had to do something to let you know I'm interested. Please call me. Brian (my phone number)."

I went to one of the biggest malls in town where hundreds of good looking girls hung out. This would be a good place to test this method. I took a hundred cards and took off for the mall. I figured handing out a hundred cards that I would get some calls. When I got to the mall I saw dozens of sexy girls and my mouth watered at the beauty I saw before me. The first girl I saw that I wanted to approach was a beautiful sexy blonde sitting in the food court having a cup of coffee. She was absolutely gorgeous. I walked up to her and muttered

"Do you have a phone? Call me?"

She looked up at me and I dropped the card on the table and ran. I handed out about 10 more cards that night, all to real pretty girls I saw in the mall. I was nervous as hell when I handed out the cards, but it would be worth it if just one of those pretty girls called. I went home that night hoping and praying that I would get a few calls. About three days later, after giving up on the idea of anyone calling, I received a call. The girl sounded very sexy and nice.

She told me that it was very creative to hand out such a cute little card. Her name was Linda and we talked about 2 hours. I met her at the mall a few days later and she was absolutely beautiful. She liked my sense of humor and would probably never even give me a second look in a bar. We dated about four months and we ended up parting as friends. I now meet many girls using the seven words with various sayings and approaches. Thanks Wayne."

Joe – "I guess you could call me a loser when it came to meeting women. I would go to bars mostly and just stand around looking at the pretty girls. Some guy at one of the bars told me he heard about a dynamite way to meet women by just saying seven words. He told me that a guy named Wayne Ross was writing a book on meeting women and that the seven words was one of the techniques to meet a lot of women. I met Wayne the next day and became a very good friend of his.

I told him I was very unlucky with girls and I went through high school and college with very few dates. I'm tall and thin with a pot belly and I wear glasses. I am very nerdish looking and never thought I could meet pretty girls saying the seven words. I told him that I was ready to try anything because I was so miserable. I was tired of getting rejected and watching all the other guys walk off with the pretty girls. I was scared shitless when I first went to the mall to try out the seven words. I had about 500 cards printed up.

On one side I had printed:

"I really think you're pretty and I'd like to get to know you. Please give me a call. My name and phone number are on the back."

I handed about 15 out to various nice looking girls the first day at the mall. I just walked up to them, asked them if they had a phone, gave them the card, and walked away. I kept handing cards out all that week at different malls and stores. I even handed some out at Burger King. I couldn't believe the response.

I got about a dozen calls the very first week and met about half of them. Most of them said they called because it was different and they were curious. Most guys come up with the same old line in a bar and women were tired of the same old technique. I finally met the girl of my dreams. She was beautiful and had the nicest personality of anyone I ever met. I would never have believed I could meet someone like her and it all took place because I walked up to her and asked her if she had a phone."

Doug – "I hate bars, so when Wayne told me about the seven words and how it could help me meet all kinds of sexy girls, I was very skeptical to say the least. I knew Wayne about seven years and he was just average looking but in the last couple years whenever I saw him he had a different girl with him so I figured he knew something. I invested in about 1000 cards and had the following printed on one side.

"I want to know you better...but I don't know how to ask. Can we meet for a cup of coffee sometime? My first name and phone number are on the back of this card."

I handed them out everywhere I saw pretty girls. I even gave a couple to a girl I saw in the movie show. Of course I was too shy to talk to her so I just handed her the card and even forgot to ask her if she had a phone. She called me, along with a lot of other girls, and I met most of them and ended up dating about a dozen. Here I met a dozen girls in a month using the seven words and before I couldn't meet a dozen girls in a year. Thanks Wayne."

There you have it. This is a great way to meet women and anyone can do it. You really don't even have to say the seven words. Just hand girls the cards and walk away. You will be surprised at how many girls will call you. In the next section I consider the most important I have ever written. I will tell you the best place ever to meet women and will tell you the secret of attracting dozens of beautiful women to you without saying a word.

The Best Place In The World To Meet Women

Now I'm going to tell you the best place to meet dozens and dozens of sexy gorgeous women and how to get many of them attracted to you without saying a word. There are nearly ten women to every man at these places and your odds are great in meeting the woman of your dreams or becoming a ladies man, as I have, with all kinds of women at your side.

Please listen to me as I lead you on how I, a nerd without anyone, became a ladies man in a very short period of time. Let's start off with my experiences.

Wayne – "The very best place in the world to meet a lot of women are singles dances. Now hear me out before you pass judgment and come up with all kinds of excuses why it won't happen to you. Like I said the women outnumber men ten to one (Only count the men who dance, don't count the guys who hold up the wall drinking and staring but never asking a girl to dance.)

All you have to do is get up and dance. I'm talking about dances where top 40 music is played not ballroom dancing which attract all older people. Be young whether you're 25 or 55. Fast dancing and slow dancing are easy to do. Anyone can do it. I want to tell you how I went from a lonely nerd at the dance to the most popular guy there.

Crystal Light is a very popular singles dance spot here in Canton. They have top 40 bands and once in a while a 50's band. Sometimes they just have a disc jockey who plays top 40 music. You can do exactly what I did and meet dozens of beautiful girls so listen up. When I first went to Crystal Light about 2 years ago I walked in and was scared stiff. I was alone and everyone looked so unfriendly and snobbish. There were a lot of beautiful women but they all looked like snobs. (First mistake I made is to form an impression.)

That very first night I only asked 5 girls to dance. They all said no. The excuses ranged from "I don't like to dance" to "I'm with someone." One girl even told me that she just got her foot operated on and couldn't dance. I saw her a few minutes later dancing with someone else. I was really depressed and looked in the mirror and thought maybe it was because I was too old.

The dances were held every Friday and Sunday night so I decided to give it a few more chances. One of the first things I noticed at these dances were that the really pretty girls were getting asked to dance all the time and the unattractive girls, especially the heavy ones, were never asked. I thought why not ask them. I was there to have a good time and to learn how to dance a little better.

I started asking the heavier girls to dance and they almost always accepted. I was having a good time. A strange thing happened. After about two weeks of dancing with the relatively heavy women a beautiful girl came up to me and asked me to dance on a ladies choice. I was shocked.

She told me she asked me to dance because I seemed like a nice guy who would dance with anyone just to have a good time. She also told me how to attract a lot of women there and that was to be seen dancing with a lot of women. She said women always want men other women want. That was the best advice a woman ever gave me. She also told me women, especially attractive ones, were more prone to agree to a fast dance than a slow one.

So from that night on I always asked women to fast dance first and I danced with some of the most beautiful women there. If a girl dances with you fast first she is more prone to dance a slow dance with you later. So many guys want to slow dance but they don't want to fast dance. Just get up there and move. Today it's more freestyle than anything. Some guys are so afraid of rejection that they make excuse after excuse so they won't have to ask a girl to dance. Every week I hear the same old excuses from the guys standing in the back watching everyone else have fun. They range from "There's too many guys here" to "The women all look like snobs."

Life is passing these guys by.

Are you like this?

Rejection is only temporary. If you ask ten girls to dance and only one says yes, so what, have fun with the one that says yes. Forget the ones that say no. Remember Babe Ruth? He had the most home runs but also had the most strike outs. I ask girl after girl to dance. Many say no, but I've also danced with some of the best looking girls in the world. Many of these women have become my friends and many want to date me. I can have my choice of many beautiful girls I dance with week after week at the singles dances.

Do not ever hold a grudge against a girl that refuses to dance with you. She has the right to turn you down if she wants. She may be tired or just not in the mood. Girls have turned me down who have turned around and danced with me the following week. I have asked two other guys to give you their views on singles dances.

Jack – "I started going to singles dances about a year ago. I've dated three girls I met at the dances and many others wanted to go out with me but I'm having too much fun to get serious with anyone. I dance with at least ten to fifteen girls every night I go to the dances and I have the time of my life. Those other guys that don't dance don't know what they're missing.

If a girl refuses to dance with me I just ask someone else. Hell, it's her loss. I'm a great guy and a lot of fun. This is the greatest place in the world to meet women. Those losers that stand in the back and just drink and stare at the girls are nuts."

Dick – "When I first came to the dances two years ago I was lonely and depressed. I did the bar scene for a couple of years but was tired of all the games and lies. Someone told me about the singles dances. I heard there were a lot of girls there. I wanted to meet some nice women to date.

The first night I went I got turned down ten times. I was really depressed and wanted to give up and never come back when a friend of mine told me what I was doing wrong. I learned that a woman likes a guy who is in a good mood and laughs and has a good time. I ask dozens of girls to dance and many times will get turned down but I just smile when a girl turns me down and walk away. Being turned down is not the end of the world."

I spent a lot of time on this topic because I really believe that singles dances are one of the best places to meet women in the world. You can meet dozens of girls to have a good time with or you can meet a girl to fall in love with. Just ask the girls to dance. You don't have to know how to dance. Just get up and do your thing. Watch the teenagers on MTV and pick up a few pointers fast dancing and far as slow dancing just have the girl teach you if you don't know how. Personal ads and singles dances are the methods I've met the most women with, but there are a lot of other ways to meet women such as the seven words I've described above and the following methods I will cover now.

THE "NC" TECHNIQUE

This is a method of meeting girls that very few guys ever use. It is the name card technique and can be used wherever a girl is using a name card to identify herself. Banks, department stores, restaurants, discount stores and many other business establishments have girls working for them who wear name cards with their first name. You simply find a girl who you're interested in, name, call up the store and talk to her. This is a lot simpler than you think. Let me give you a couple examples of how this worked for a couple of my friends.

Jim – "I was shopping at Penney's on Sunday for a gift for my sister. It was her birthday and I wanted to get her something nice. I was in the women's department looking at some sexy looking tops when I heard a soft feminine voice "Can I help you?"

I looked over and I saw one of the sexiest girls I ever had the pleasure of talking to. I told her I was looking for a gift for my sister and I didn't know for sure what size she wore. I looked at the name tag she was wearing and her name was Debbie. She helped me pick out something nice and suggested what size she thought my sister would wear after I told her how tall she was and how much she weighed. I left the department dreaming about how pretty and sexy Debbie was. I could have tried to pick her up right there and then but I was not that aggressive. Instead I decided to call Penney's and talk to her.

I waited a few days and called Penney's and asked for the woman's department. "Hello? Woman's Wear"

"Hi. Is Debbie there"

"This is Debbie."

"Hi Debbie. This is Jim.

I was in there last week and you helped me pick out a outfit for my sister. I wanted to thank you for helping me and to tell you my sister really liked the outfit."

"Why, thank you," she said, I don't think she remembered me but she was being polite.

"I don't know how to say this Debbie but you seem so nice and I think you're very pretty. I'd like to get to know you better. Can I see you sometime and maybe have lunch with you there at the mall?"

"I'm not sure," she replied. "I hardly know you."

"I understand," I said.

"What if I call you back again and talk to you a little more. We can get to know each other a little better."

"Okay, if I'm not too busy, we can talk a few minutes now and then." I told her goodbye and hung up.

I called back three or four times and talked to her and finally met her on her lunch hour for lunch. We had a good time laughing and joking. I had lunch with her, as a friend a couple more times and finally asked her out for a date. She went out with me for about three months and I had the time of my life with her but she was ready to get serious and I met three more good looking girls using the name card technique and I wanted to spend more time with them.

There was Joan from Sears, a real pretty blonde. Lisa who worked at a restaurant in the mall, and Linda who worked at the Taco Bell in the food court at the mall. I am almost an expert using this technique.

Almost every restaurant I eat at have pretty waitresses wear name tags. If I'm interested I call them up and start talking to them.

If they 're married or have a boyfriend I just make friends with them and try someone new. Sometimes they introduce me to their girl friends because they like my nerve and imagination in trying to meet them this way. Any guy can meet a lot of girls using the name card technique. Sam – "I have breakfast at a place called Country Manor nearly every morning before work. One morning I saw this beautiful waitress working there. She must have been new because I never saw her before. She waited on me and I looked at her name tag and saw that her name was Barbara. She was really friendly and I just couldn't eat that first morning I saw her. I hardly talked to her because I was so nervous around her. I had read somewhere where a guy tried to meet a pretty girl by sending her flowers and signing "From your secret admirer"

I decided to do this and went out and bought a dozen daisies and send them to the restaurant with a card that said "I think you're very pretty, from your secret admirer" I still went in the restaurant every day and saw her looking around trying to figure out who sent the flowers. I sent her a few cute cards and always signed them the same,

"From your secret admirer."

I don't think she ever guessed it was me because every day I just talked to her like a friend and she never mentioned the cards or gifts. I decided it was time to tell her the truth. I went to a T-Shirt place and bought a T-Shirt and had printed on it From Your Secret Admirer. The very next day I went in the restaurant and had a jacket on so she couldn't see my T-shirt. After she waited on me I got up my nerve and took my jacket off. When she came over to give me the check I looked at her and said, "Hi Barb, From Your Secret Admirer."

I didn't know what to expect but I didn't expect her to cry and that is what she did. I thought I had embarrassed her but she looked at me and said, "That's the nicest thing anyone ever did for me." Barb and I are going together and we plan on getting married. I really love her and would never have met her if I didn't use the name card technique to get her name and try to get attention. Thanks Wayne."

You can use the name card technique any way you want. You can get her name and call her up like Jim or you can send her cards and flowers like Sam. I met a beautiful girl that works at my bank just by looking at her name and sending her flowers and cards. She waited on me nearly every time I went to the bank and at times I think she guessed it was me. I finally got the courage to ask her out and I told her I was the one who sent the cards because I was too shy to ask her out right away. We dated nearly six months and are friends to this day. Try this method and you'll be amazed at the number of girls you will meet. Remember girls like guys who are different and unique and they love romance and this method is very romantic. Ask any female you want on her opinion of this method and I bet she'll love it.

The Amazing 1-5-10 Technique

This is a technique that can be used anywhere there is a lot of women. You can use it at parties, at bars, at malls, anywhere and everywhere there are women. It goes like this. You see a pretty girl that you would like to meet. You walk up to her and say, "Hi, aren't you Joe Miller's ex wife?"

"No I'm not", she says.

"No, I work at Bailey and Bailey law firm."

You apologize and say "I'm sorry. My name's Wayne, what's yours."

If she tells you her name you got the information you need to work the 1-5-10 technique. You talk with her one minute using any kind of conversation to get her to tell you her name and where she works. You wait ten days and then you call up where she works and talk to her. You talk to her about 5 minutes and try to get a date with her.

She will more readily accept a date with you on the phone because she is more relaxed than in a bar or party. Let's see how a couple guys used this technique and how you can do the same.

Chad – "I was at Belden Village mall one Sunday afternoon just having a cup of coffee sitting at a table in the food court. I saw this beautiful girl sitting at a table not far from me. She had long blonde hair, a dynamite shape and looked like a movie star. I figured I had nothing to lose so I decided to try the 1-5-10 technique. I gathered up my courage, went over to her table and looked down at her. "Hi Barbara. How are you doing. How's your baby sister?"

"Pardon me, do I know you?"

"Yes, my names Chad James. I used to work at Goodyear in Cost accounting with you. Don't you remember me?"

"I never worked at Goodyear. My name's Peggy and I work at Trinken Mercy hospital in the credit office."

"I'm sorry. You looked just like Barbara. Well it was nice talking to you."

I left her alone and went to the restroom and wrote down her name and where she worked. I carry a pen and a little notebook around and write down all the info in the notebook. I waited ten days and called Trinken Mercy hospital.

"Trinken Mercy", the operator says when I call.

"Credit, please." "This is credit." "Is Peggy there?"

"This is Peggy."

"Hi Peggy. This is Chad James. I met you the other day at the mall. I thought you were Barbara a girl I used to work with."

"Oh yes, I vaguely remember."

Sometimes the girls don't remember very much about me. That works to my advantage because I have more of a chance selling my wonderful personality on the phone.

"Well, I remember you being so nice that I wanted to call you and talk to you a little. Maybe we can become friends. I don't know many people in town and I thought I'd like to know you."

"Well I guess its okay. As long as I'm not too busy I can talk to you."

"What I'd like to do Peggy if it's okay with you is to meet you for lunch or a cup of coffee someday. We can get to know each other."

"I don't know you very well. Chad so I'd like to wait a while."

"Okay, I understand. Can I call you in a couple days and talk a little more?"

"Sure that would be okay."

"Well, it was nice talking to you"

"Good Bye Chad."

I called Peggy a few more times and finally met her in the cafeteria at the hospital for lunch. We really hit it off and dated about six months. I have become an expert using the 1-5-10 technique. I easily meet ten to fifteen girls a month using this method. I meet them in bars, malls, department stores and restaurants."

Nick – "Chad talked me into trying this method of meeting girls. I had terrible luck in bars and I considered myself average looking, actually a little ugly. I could not attract girls on my looks alone. I was in a singles bar one night looking at all the beautiful girls and hoping one of them would fall for me. But the only guys who seemed to have the luck were the real good looking ones. I was really down. I saw this really sexy looking girl fast dancing with her girlfriend and decided I'd try the 1-5-10 technique on her.

When she came back to her table I decided I would go up to her and say I knew her from somewhere. I had a few drinks and was a little braver than usual. I did go up to her and told her I knew her ex-husband from college. I guess I sounded pretty convincing because she explained to me that she was never married and that she wished she was sometimes. I finally got her name and where she worked and excused myself and left the table. Sometimes I wonder if I should have stayed but if I pursued her I may have been rejected without a chance to show her what I was really like.

I called about ten days later and talked to her on the phone about five minutes. She did not remember me but she gave me a chance to talk and I finally met her for a cup of coffee at a fast food place. We became good friends and dated as friends and finally had a relationship. I have become more proficient using the 1-5-10 technique and meet more and more girls." This is a great method to meet women.

Remember these points:

You must be convincing and get her name and place of employment. You can always tell her later that you wanted to meet her and didn't know how so you pretended to know her or someone she knows. This is only if you feel guilty because you had to tell a little white lie. You know that I believe in total honesty with women but sometimes you have to use little tricks to meet them. Go out tonight and try this method. Don't forget your notebook and pen.

The Baby Technique

This is a dandy idea to meet a lot of women especially at malls and restaurants. Borrow a baby from one of your relatives or even a friend and take the kid to a mall or restaurant. I did this recently and met two extremely pretty women. My niece Tanya has a beautiful baby girl named Jaime. She's 2 1/2 years old and looks just like Shirley Temple when she was that age. Jaime is a real cute adorable little girl and women just love her.

One day Tanya asked me if I would watch Jaime for her a couple hours when her and Steve (her husband) went to the movies. I said I would because I didn't have anything planned. I picked Jaime up and decided to take her to the mall and get her a coke. We went to McDonalds and sat in the food court. Jaime loves Ronald McDonald and she got French fries and a coke. We were sitting down and Jaime was talking a blue streak talking about her YiYi (her grandma, my sister) (By the way my sister is only 41, looks 25, is extremely beautiful and gives me a lot of advice and approves of most of what I say about women and her advice is invaluable to me).

As Jaime was talking I heard a soft feminine voice say, "My, what a cute baby." "Hi," Jaime said. "What's your name?", she asked Jaime. "Jaime Nicole", answered Jaime. "Is your Daddy buying you lunch", she asked Jaime. "That's not my Daddy. That's my Uncle Wayne and he's a butt hole." This had us both laughing and I introduced myself to this pretty woman with long brown hair and beautiful eyes.

It turns out her name was Laura and she was newly divorced and had two little kids herself. I found this all out after I invited her to sit down and have a cup of coffee with me. She couldn't get over the idea of me taking Jaime to the mall with me. She thought most men didn't want to be bothered with taking kids with them anywhere. I told her I loved kids and Jaime was a joy because she was adorable and was a good talker.

I made friends with her and got her phone number and told her I'd call her when they had a good band at the singles dance I go to. She was new at the dating game and wanted to stay away from bars. Again I must stress to you make friends with every woman you meet whether you want to date them or not. I did date Laura and we had a wonderful time for a couple months. There is no way I want to get serious yet because I'm having too much fun. Besides if I got married where would all you guys get your advice about meeting women. A great ladies man (me) would have to hang up his guns if I retired and got married.

I met another girl that day with Jaime. This was in the bookstore where I was buying Jaime a coloring book. Her name was Janice and she too remarked how cute Jaime was and how it was so nice an uncle took interest in his little niece. So, like I said, borrow a baby and take her or him places and I guarantee you a lot of women will comment and you will gain value in their eyes because you are a caring man who loves children.

Little Known Secret To Attracting Dozens Of Beautiful Women

I have mentioned this before but it is so important that I'm going to cover it in complete detail here. To attract dozens of beautiful women all you have to do is be seen with other women. This sounds so simple yet it is so powerful that I must spend sometime on it. Why is this important? You don't even have to say a word when a woman sees you with another woman.

They figure if you are with another woman you must have something going for you. If you are seen with more than one woman (at different times of course) you will really attract women. I'm going to show you exactly how to do this. To be successful with women you must make friends with women. Treat women as human beings and they will love you for it.

Build up a number of female friends, take them out on dates as friends, and be seen with them everywhere and anywhere. Other women will see you and find you highly attractive. This helped me meet two beautiful women just recently. I told you about the singles dances. I have at least fifteen or twenty female friends I dance with every week at the dances. About two weeks ago a sexy looking girl came up to me and asked me to dance.

Of course I said yes.

She said I must really be popular because I dance with so many women. This girl would never have approached me if she didn't see me with other women. I became attractive because she saw me with a lot of women. Another instance was in a restaurant where a cute looking waitress worked that would not give me the time of day.

I started going out with a couple female friends for lunch every so often to this restaurant and the waitress usually waited on us. When I went in alone one time she was real friendly with me and made the comment that I must know a lot of girls or that I must be a great lover to have so many women. I told her they were just friends (the truth) but she laughed and told me she would like to be friends with me. I asked her out as a friend and we not only became friends but also lovers.

Bryan Redfield, the author of A Bartenders Guide on How to Pick Up Women says that being friends with women is crucial to your success with them. I agree 100%. Bryan should know. He's been a bartender in some of Hollywood's hottest nightclubs for 14 years. He hears from all kinds of women.

As mentioned in A Man's Guide to Women the authors stress being friends with women. There are many reasons for this. The main reason is that you will be seen with women which is good for your image. Another reason is that one of the best ways to meet women is through women especially women that know you, they like you and appreciate you.

There is always the possibility that one of these friendships will turn into something else. Remember the best relationships are ones that started as friends. So make as many female friends as you can. Do not put a girl down if she is not interested in you but try to become her friend. Why do men have to approach girls on asexual level? Approach them on a non physical level and you will be surprised how many girls will respond to you. Make some female friends and other women will find you attractive. I guarantee it.

SINGLES BARS – WHY 95% OF MEN FAIL TO MEET GIRLS

Singles Bars are the most difficult place to meet women and nearly 97% of men who try to meet girls in bars fail to do so.

Do you know why?

It is because they approach them wrong. Never, and I mean never, go up to a girl and ask to buy her a drink. In fact never buy a girl a drink unless you are on a date with her. This makes a girl feel obligated to you and most of them will only use you to buy them drinks all night. Most men approach women in a bar on a sexual level and that is why they fail. Approach them on a friendly level and you will have a lot better chance of getting to know them.

You must sell yourself to women and if they become your friend they will see you are a nice guy and may become more than a friend. This is so important. In a Singles Bar if you want to meet women go up to them in a non sexual nonphysical way. Go up to them and just say Hi. That's all.

I met a beautiful girl named Lisa in as Singles Bar and here is how I did it. I was at the Holiday Inn one night and I saw this beautiful girl sitting at a table with a girlfriend. She had long black hair and was fairly young. I knew the worse thing to do was to ask her to dance because I saw her turn down a bunch of guys.

Now Singles Dances are different than bars. At the Singles dances women go to dance. In a bar you will get turned down ten times more than a singles dance. I'd rather go to a singles dance but a lot of guys still go to bars so I want to tell them how to succeed. I go to singles bars about once a month just to see how I can meet women there. Anyway back to Lisa.

I saw her sitting at a table and was deciding how to meet her. I just decided to go over and say Hi. I went over to the table. "Hi", I said to both of them."

"Hi", they replied back.

"Do you girls like the band?"

"Yes," they both said.

"My name's Wayne, what are your names."

"My name's Lisa and this is Joyce."

"Nice to meet you."

"Sometimes it's hard to talk because the band is so loud. I like the music and I love to dance but the dance floor is so small in here."

"Yes it is." said Lisa.

Lisa did most of the talking and she was the one I was interested in but I was friendly with both of them. I told them it was nice meeting them and left. Very important. I did not make them feel threatened by making them think I was going to sticklike glue to them all night. A lot of guys make their mistake by talking to a girl and if she answers he tries to hog her time. I remarked I like to dance but I did not ask her to dance at this time because I wanted to give her some time to think.

I saw Lisa and Joyce a couple more times that night and I was friendly to them each time but I still did not hog their time. I figured I would run into them again. I did run into them again, the following week, and this time Lisa was real friendly. She was all smiles when she saw me and treated me like a old friend. I finally danced with her and we had a very good time. I laughed and joked and treated her like a good friend. She said she was very comfortable with me. I have not asked her out yet but whenever I see her we have a good time dancing and a lot of the guys envy me because I'm dancing with such a beautiful girl. You can do the same.

The same thing happened to me with another girl named Jackie. She turned me down three different times when I asked her to dance but I did not make the mistake a lot of guys make. I did not put her down and I did not hold it against her because she did not dance with me. What I did do was talk to her a few minutes each time I saw her. She talked to me more and more each time I saw her. We became friends. After a couple months of 'running into her at the same bar she asked me why I never asked her to dance. I told her she turned me down three times.

She didn't remember but we did dance and I did take her out a few times. The lesson here is to talk to as many women as you can as friends. Many of them will turn out to be more than friends, mark my words. If you remember nothing else just remember that women are human beings and not sex objects. Treat them as such and you will have success beyond your wildest dreams.

SUMMARY – ENJOY YOURSELF

Women are everywhere and anywhere so go wherever there are women and try to meet them.

The Seven Words, the "Name Card" Technique, the 1-5-10 Technique and the Baby Technique can be used anywhere you see women. Malls, restaurants, bookstores, auctions, swimming pools. Bowling alleys, and any other of the hundreds of places you see beautiful women. Don't forget to check on singles dances in your area because you will be surprised at the number of good looking women you will meet here.

Well, I hope you follow my advice and never give up in your desire to meet the woman or women of your dreams. The biggest enemy you have is fear. Banish fear from your life forever and live every day as if it were your last because you never know when God will call you home. Approach dozens of women and you will be surprised at the number of women who will respond to you.
