Leoni Township ▶

As of November 1, 2009, Leoni Township no longer has an active fire department. Voters in the last election turned down a millage renewal that would have allowed the continued operation of fire protection, and suppression services in the township. Therefore, due to a lack of funding necessary to sustain daily operations, it was decided to disband Leoni Township's Fire Dept. altogether, but retain their local police force. Subsequently, all fire calls will be handled by neighboring Blackman Township for the foreseeable future.

Moreover, a year later on November 1, 2010, Blackman and Leoni Townships finally merged their public safety agencies together, to create the "Blackman-Leoni Township Department of Public Safety. Covering an area of 215 square kilometers (83 sq. mi.), the combined department offers a full-time police department, and paid on-call fire services. Their main headquarters are located at 1996 W. Parnall Road.
